3. What is your plan to ensure communities/coalitions follow a strategic planning process (SPF, CTC, etc.)? Provide evidence you will collect to show that this process was followed (CTC worksheets, logic models, etc.).

Each Salt Lake County coalition is assigned a Health Department (HD) lead who provides training and ongoing technical assistance to ensure fidelity to the Communities That Care (CTC) framework. HD leads are CTC-trained, attend coalition meetings and events, and deliver at least two hours of monthly technical support, supplemented by an additional two hours of CTC-specific coaching as required by licensing. These structured supports ensure consistent monitoring, relationship-building, and timely course correction.

Implementation is tracked through monthly reporting from both HD leads and coalition coordinators, documenting CTC phase progression, milestones, and benchmarks. Additional evidence includes QuickBase event reports for all community-facing activities (reported to the state via LSAA SPARQs reporting), as well as CTC-specific documentation such as worksheets, logic models, and strategic plans. Compliance is reinforced through contractual requirements, with funding contingent on adherence to the strategic planning process.

4. How will the LA monitor and support coalitions in developing and utilizing quality logic models?

Each Salt Lake County coalition is assigned a Health Department (HD) lead who provides training and technical assistance to support both fidelity to the Communities That Care (CTC) framework and the development of high-quality logic models. Through this process, coalitions identify local problems and relevant risk and protective factors and are guided in selecting evidence-based interventions aligned with desired short- and long-term outcomes. Training in CTC and prevention frameworks such as SAPST ensures coalitions have the skills to develop clear, actionable logic models.

Coalitions submit completed logic models to the SUP Program Manager for review at the conclusion of the planning phase. Ongoing monitoring and support are provided through regular check-ins and formal review during annual site visits to ensure logic models remain relevant, updated, and effectively guide community efforts.

5. How will the LA ensure programs are evidence-based for substance use prevention?

All contracted programs and strategies must be listed in a recognized evidence-based registry. Accepted registries align with those identified by the Prevention Technology Transfer Center's Guide to Online Registries for Substance Misuse Prevention Evidence-Based Programs and Practices, ensuring programs meet established standards of effectiveness.

Programs not included in an approved registry are referred to the Utah Evidence-Based Workgroup for formal review of curricula and materials. Only programs that meet evidence-based criteria through one of these pathways are approved for funding and implementation.

6. How are programs/strategies monitored for implementation fidelity?

Sub-awarded programs and strategies are supported with ongoing technical assistance and formal oversight processes to ensure implementation of fidelity. Annual contract management meetings review expectations, standards, and adherence requirements. Programs are also audited annually using curriculum-specific fidelity tools to confirm content is delivered as intended.

In addition, sub-awardees submit outcome data to assess whether expected results are being achieved. These combined monitoring and evaluation efforts support continuous quality improvement and ensure programs are implemented with fidelity and aligned with intended outcomes.

7. What is your plan to increase collaboration across the behavioral health continuum? In what ways may your strategies impact mental or physical health?

In our strategic planning process, we have identified primary, secondary, and tertiary prevention outcomes for the county. This includes strengthened collaboration with Health Department partners, such as the CARE Bureau, which supports naloxone distribution, opioid overdose prevention, and suicide prevention efforts, as well as Salt Lake County Behavioral Health, which oversees substance use disorder (SUD) and mental health treatment and recovery services.

The addition of new county opioid settlement funds and the approved comprehensive plan further reinforces a coordinated, cross-system approach. This establishes a clear precedent for increased collaboration across prevention, treatment, and recovery partners to achieve shared population-level outcomes.

8. How will you provide services to all prevention populations (universal, selective, and indicated)? Or what are you going to do to increase the reach of your prevention services to include all prevention populations?

Currently, funded programs span the full prevention spectrum, with approximately 60% allocated to universal prevention and 20% each to selective and indicated prevention. Through the Request for Applications (RFA) development process, the number and type of programs funded within each Institute of Medicine (IOM) category are determined based on available funding and identified community needs.

9. Explain your sustainability plan for prevention funding. If you do not have a sustainability plan, explain why and tell us how you will meet this requirement by the next area plan due date.

We are currently in a new strategic planning process, and a more detailed sustainability plan will be developed next year in alignment with updated strategies.

Current sustainability approaches include braided funding across 30 programs, with approximately 75% funded through the SUPTR Block Grant and 25% through Tobacco YEMOP state funding. We also build capacity among coalitions and providers to pursue additional funding sources by offering grant writing and funding strategy training.

Sustainability is further supported through collaboration with community partners to ensure continuity of services if direct funding decreases. Internally, the Health Department conducts 25%, 50%, and 100% fiscal stress tests during the budget process to assess potential funding loss impacts and identify opportunities for local tax support. Programs and strategies are then prioritized based on impact, community support, resource availability, and gap-filling potential. This prioritization framework is also applied within our program planning to guide decision-making.
